

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 01st July 2026

DrDanBunstone.com is committed to protecting your privacy and handling any personal information responsibly in accordance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

Information We Collect

We do not actively collect personal information through this website. There are no registration forms, user accounts or mailing lists.

If you choose to contact us by email, we will only use the information you provide to respond to your enquiry.

Our web hosting provider may automatically record limited technical information, such as IP addresses and browser details, for security, maintenance and the operation of the website.

How We Use Your Information

Any personal information you voluntarily provide by email will only be used to:

- Respond to your enquiry.
- Communicate with you where necessary.
- Meet any legal or regulatory obligations.

We do not sell, rent or share your personal information with third parties except where required by law.

Your Rights

Under UK data protection law, you have the right to request access to any personal information we hold about you, request that inaccurate information is corrected, and request deletion where appropriate.

If you have any questions about how your information is handled or wish to exercise your rights, please contact us directly.

Cookies

Information about how cookies are used on this website is available in our separate Cookie Policy.

Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. Any changes will be published on this page together with the revised effective date.
